Built with romantic flair and style that emphasized bespoke craftsmanship and eloquence of the era.

Breathtaking grandeur and opulence is on full display in this 4-bedroom Medindie manor where botanic inspired gardens of such richness and colour transport you to what feels undeniably like the English countryside.

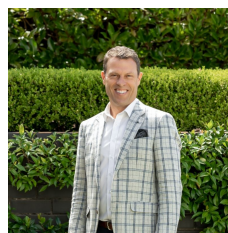

Lofty ceilings and a wide traditional hallway leads to a formal lounge bathed in natural light. A formal family room has picturesque garden views, and a grand formal dining steps directly out onto the paved courtyard via double French doors - this exquisite property defines suburban grandeur.

Classical interiors give way to a welcome shift of modern design in the open-plan kitchen and casual dining where crisp white-on-white cabinetry, tiling, bench tops and island provide an open and functional space whether cooking nightly meals for the family or hosting dinner parties where ease and efficiency are paramount.

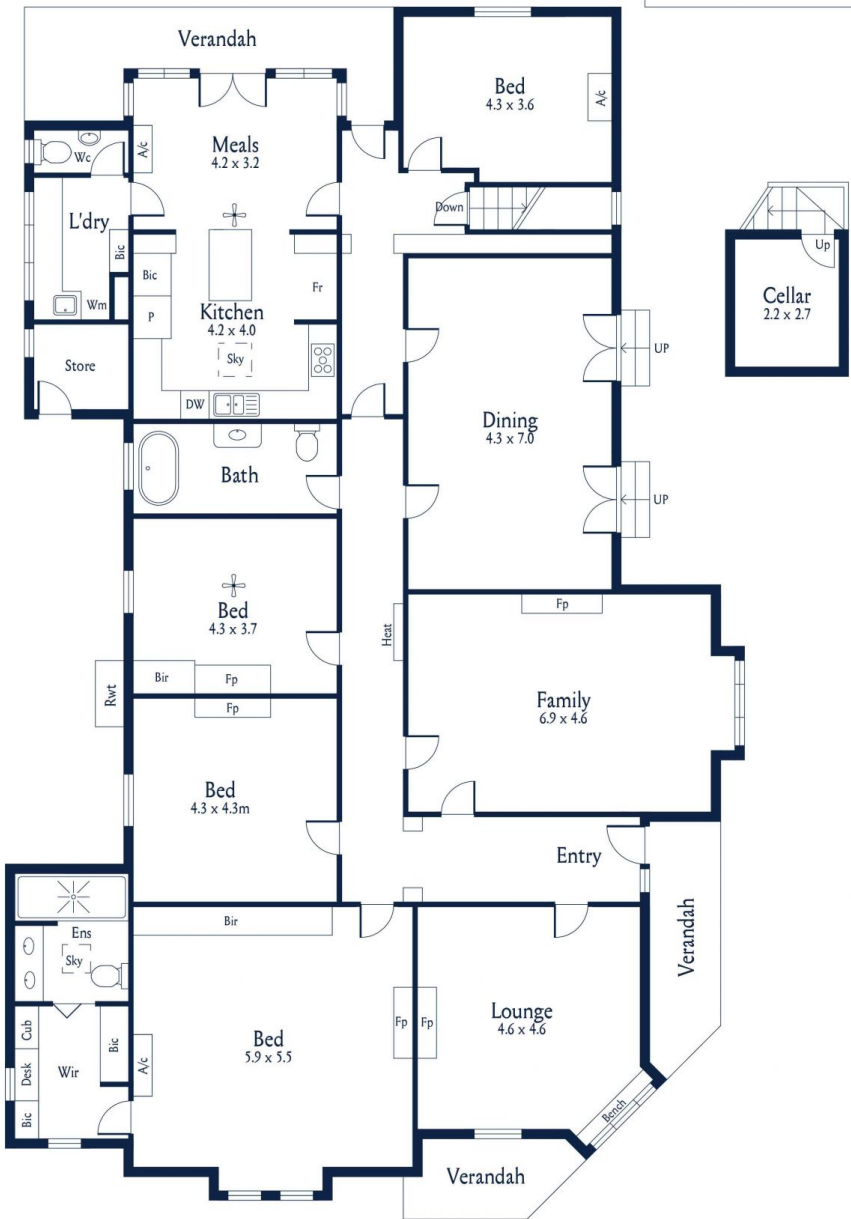

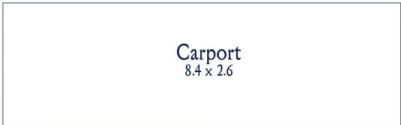

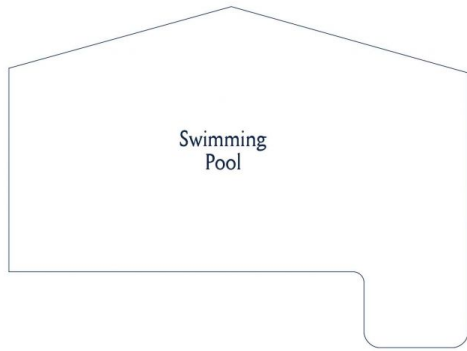

Functionality aside, the layout of this area, which flows seamlessly onto the slate mosaic alfresco, allows for stunning views into the manicured rear yard and emerald
