Outstanding landmark home, Streamline Moderne Art Deco mansion on 1,318 sqm (approx.) Built in 1939 by architect Gordon Beaumont-Smith, this is undoubtedly one of Adelaide's most beautifully preserved art deco architectural masterpieces. The home's facade is entirely constructed of brick and incorporates curved walls and windows. Through the double doors you enter a 10m long formal living room with a northerly sun-drenched aspect.

To the rear, a modern white kitchen continues the curved theme offering the cook a Gaggenau oven and cooktop, ample bench space with views over the pool and outside pavilion. At the touch of a button, this sleek modern kitchen surprises you with a Miele Coffee maker that rises from the under bench.
