

3 Robson Road Hectorville SA

2 1 1

If you're looking for an alternative to multiple townhouse living and wanting a place to call your own, with no rules, then this home is the perfect choice!

Fresh and fun, the clean rendered façade of this enchanting Austerity, art deco period home will delight the next buyer. Traditional features have been preserved and reveal themselves in the polished timber floors, molded ceiling details, frosted glass double doors and terrazzo floors in the original bathroom. Modern updates throughout the home including lighting, white walls, bathroom vanity and tapware work well with the original elements in the home, especially the classic art-deco curved cupboards and original cooking alcove in the eat-in kitchen.

The formal entry opens to the living room and there are two generous-sized bedrooms all with polished timber floors.
