

86 Edward Street Norwood SA

4 2 2

Steeped in heritage and a lifetime of memories, this c. 1907 bluestone villa holds a special place in Norwood and one family's heart.

Gaining an innate understanding of turn-of-the-century architecture, they have carefully undertaken sympathetic renovations and additions along the way, evident from its idyllic street presence behind a restored bullnose verandah, wraparound federation porch and ornate lacework.

Acting as a grand gallery and savouring the intricate artwork imbued onto the feature archway and 13-foot ceilings, each room takes on its own elegant disposition. From the academic library to the dignified formal dining and
